HIGH FIVE FOR DAD!

As we celebrate this special day for the dads, I have come across this perfect litany from writer Gerry Unruh that best describes how tough a dad's role is.

Being a dad is the toughest and most rewarding undertaking you'll ever do. But if you're like most dads, you're wondering if you're doing enough, being there enough, and loving enough.

Dads do a lot of good stuff. And I say it's high time to give them a well-deserved high five. Here's my "High Five to Dads" list...

Dads work hard. No matter how boring the job or what the pay is, dads go to work every day to play their part in making sure there's a comfortable place to live, enough to eat, nice clothes for the kids, and enough money for extra activities and fun things to do.

Dads adore their daughters. A daughter thrives from her adoring dad. He notices her – maybe it's how quickly she learns things or how well she treats others. He supports her developing passionate activities, whether it's a sport, the arts, or academics.

Dads support their sons' masculinity. "Dad believes in my ability to eventually find my own solutions to a situation" is the biggest gift dads can give boys, along with regular one-to-one time.

Dads show love to their wives. Dads show appropriate affection in front of their kids, such as hugs or gentle kisses on the cheek. When there's a disagreement, dads make sure the kids know a solution was worked out.

Dads teach strong morals and values. Dads make sure to teach what's right and wrong to their kids. Firm discipline occurs when the rules are broken, and high fives occur with equal emotion when rules are followed. Dads walk the talk.

And if I may add to this high-five list, I believe that you will agree with me that dads love to eat as much as we do! And because we are thankful to our dads, he only deserves the best eat-out treat! The best family treat is in your favorite Pizza Hut, be it for dine-in or delivery you will surely enjoy our New Stuffed Crust Pizza with 25% more magic magic cheese.

Pizza Hut wants to make sure of pure happiness in this special day. Dads will get a limited edition "Pizza Hut Leaning Tumbler" for a minimum P800 dine-in purchase in all Pizza Hut restaurants.

So, let's make this celebration a truly memorable one for our Dads, because we can always lean on Dad!

For a special dining experience for the whole family that's fresh, hot, and exciting, get the new Pizza Hut Stuffed Crust Pizza in any of our dine-in restaurants or call 911-1111 for Metro Manila delivery today. For more value food choices, visit our website www.pizzahut.com.ph or "be a fan" of Pizza Hut Philippines in Facebook to get the latest updates and promotions.

Being a father is a 24/7 job, and No. 1's always get our 6, and for that we will always be grateful to you dad. # Have more meaningful conversations with Dad this Father's Day

Fathers are often perceived to be formal, uptight, and strict. Whereas mothers are more emotional, dads take the rational side when dealing with situations involving personal decisions, families and their children, may it be on curfews, household chores, family activities and relationships. "With dads, the mind is more powerful than the heart. This is one of the reasons why most kids are aloof and feel disconnected with their fathers.

This Father's Day, Globe helps sons and daughters loosen up and rekindle bonds with papa, dad, daddy, tatay, or itay especially those separated by distance and are miles away from each other. "With our portfolio of international services with the lowest overseas rates and worldwidest coverage, children of all ages can have more meaningful conversations with their fathers on their special day," said Richie Sison, Head of Outbound International for Globe Telecom.

Call dad and tell him you've been longing to talk to him. Share with him how your week went by, from meeting new friends and classmates in school, acing your business presentation, to detailing the specifics of your proposal plans with your long-time girlfriend. Greeting him a simple 'Happy Father's Day' is not enough. Use the occasion to finally tell him how much you appreciate all that he has done for you. With the affordable international call rates from Globe, you can now make longer calls to make sure no story or experience is left untold. Strengthen bonds and ties with your dad and start it this Father's Day by choosing what Globe product suits you to make it happen.

The Prodigal Camaro makes a comeback after 40 years

Story and Photos by Alvin Uy

EACH father's day reminds us of the various memorable occasions we spend with our beloved dads. A number of these occasions would involve a leisurely drive or even the time when daddy first taught us how to drive. In the 1960s, muscle cars were the craze and with the coming back of retro-inspired muscle cars, we are beginning to see new model muscle and pony cars more and more in the market. Perhaps Hollywood had something to do with this resurgence with movies (and their sequels) like Cars, Fast & Furious and the Transformers movie. Nowadays, the baby boomers who reminisce the good old days are in for a treat with the current serving of modern retro-inspired cars like Chevrolet's Camaro who seems to be leading the pack in terms of the pony car race in the local market.

The original Camaro - the Father of the Ride

It will surprise many that the first generation Camaros were also assembled in the Philippines. Aside from the Camaro, other select GM models like the Bel Air, Impala and the Malibu were assembled in [illegible] and [illegible]. It was the first GM facility in the Far East. The [illegible] company was founded in 1921 by [illegible]. One of these companies, [illegible] Motors used to import cars on an indent basis from [illegible]. Sadly, the Camaro had to end its production run after the end of the 1969 model because the government wanted to review the classification of the Camaro from a 2-door coupe passenger car to a sports car, increasing the tax duties substantially. Nowadays, RP-made Camaros from 1967 to 1969 are considered collectible locally and internationally due to this scarcity.

Fast forward to forty decades later, GM's presence in the Philippines took a new chapter when General Motors Philippines started operations in the mid-1990s up until 2009. Last year, The Covenant Car Company Inc. (TCCCI), a newly-formed 100% Filipino-owned company took over the GM franchise in the country. As GM and Chevrolet took on a revitalized presence in the country, so did the Camaro. The fifth generation model (2SS) 3.6 liter V6 variant was showcased at the Manila International Auto Show last year and the 6.2 liter V8 variant was launched in the Philippine International Motorshow last August. This latest generation Camaro was based on the 2006 Camaro Concept as production began on March 16, 2009. Last April 1, the Camaro was named the World Car Design of the Year at the World Car of the Year Awards. So if you think Megan Fox was hot in the Transformers movie, there was another hottie in the movie and it's the yellow Camaro. The Camaro was one of America's most anticipated come back retro-inspired cars.

Sibling rivalry!

Since last year, there has been some talk about the possible entry of the Mustang in the RP market. Dodge has already launched their Hemi-powered Charger sedan and two-door cousin, the Challenger. Will Ford be not far behind? It would be cool to see all these iconic cars on the road as these pony cars re-emerge in the market; one big question is in the mind of most muscle car enthusiasts: will the original and real American sportscar please stand up? It is also made by Chevrolet and goes by name of Corvette.

Multi-everything phone

Like my dad, Andrew is going for a Samsung Galaxy Tab 10. This multi-everything phone has everything! [illegible] with more than 300,000 free apps available, and the camera and video are in full HD. The newest model, the Samsung Galaxy Tab 10.1, was launched earlier this year for a younger, more multimedia savvy one. We'll see if that includes Andrew.

Samsung has launched a new campaign, "Life 2.0" to choose outstanding and diverse leaders who could champion the Galaxy Tab. One of the ambassadors is actor/dad [illegible], who is currently rocking the local art scene with his [illegible] style. This master [illegible] has also been very generous, [illegible] the Red Cross [illegible].

Lloyd Webber menu

For older dads like my own dad, Alex, and father-in-law Jun, there is "The Music of Andrew Lloyd Webber," produced by [illegible] Concertus and showing at the Tanghalang Nicanor Abelardo, Cultural Center of the Philippines beginning on June 24.

Concertus, after the phenomenal success of "CATS" Manila last year, has teamed up with Lunchbox Theatrical Productions, David Atkins Enterprises and [illegible] to produce this amazing new production. It's a limited run, so get your tickets early.

For the younger dads, like my brother Paolo, and brothers-in-law Robbie and Philip, I recommend pop icon Kylie Minogue, who brings her "Aphrodite Live 2011" world tour to Manila on July 1. Unbelievable as it may seem, this is Kylie's first ever concert in the country. The Araneta Coliseum will surely be packed for the Aussie goddess.

Inspired by Greek mythology and culture, the brand new extravaganza "Aphrodite Live 2011" will feature an array of specially designed props, including a 24-foot tall golden Pegasus, a golden chariot, live video screens and a sweeping staircase.

Kylie will be clad in Dolce & Gabbana, which is the big draw for men. For tickets, call Ticket-Net at 9115555 or [illegible].

And for the [illegible] dads, like my hubby Dennis, well I think my Samsung-using hubby kind of regrets having missed the [illegible] this week. Happy Fathers' Day anyway to all the great dads out there!

TABAK Festival

Albay celebrates three fiestas this June

THE PROVINCE of Albay marks three festivals in Tabaco City and the towns of Camalig and Polangui this June.

According to Albay Gov. Joey Salceda, the festivities will rediscover the history and cultural heritage, promote tourism and showcase people's skills of the said localities, with the festivals reflecting the color and diversity of the towns situated around the foot of Mayon Volcano.

Festivities kick off with the month-long Pulang Angui Festival of Polangui, which relives the origins of the town.

Coinciding with the town fiesta in honor of Saints Peter and Paul, the festivity will have the street dancing presentation on June 25 to reenact the legend of Pulang Angui, a beautiful maiden during the town's olden days after whom the municipality is named.

The Search for Mutya ng Pulang Angui will be held June 27, which is known to produce candidates for national beauty pageants.

Action shifts to Camalig for the Pinangat Festival, which runs June 18-24 and will bring to the fore its culinary pride—the pinangat.

POLANGUI'S Pulang Angui Festival

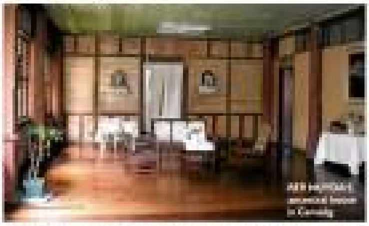

CAMALIG pinangat

Regarded as a signature Bicol delicacy, pinangat is a vegetable dish made of shredded gabi leaves, red ginger, tiny shrimps (hipon) or a slice of salted fish or pork and crushed pepper. The recipe is wrapped in gabi leaves, tied in bundles, and cooked in coconut milk in a claypot.

On June 21, pinangat makers will hold a municipal convention to tackle ways to improve packaging and marketing of the famed delicacy. There will also be pinangat cooking and eating contests in the afternoon.

Celebrations conclude with the street presentation and Mutya ng Camalig search on June 22 and the patronal fiesta on June 24.

Acknowledged as Albay's heritage town, Camalig is known for its town of ancestral houses, archeological sites and the centuries-old St. John Church, which serves as repository of pre-Spanish relics.

ancestral house in Camalig

Merrymaking shifts to Tabaco City for the Tabak Festival on June 16-25, which will bring to the fore the city's booming cutlery industry.

Dubbed as the country's "cutlery capital," Tabaco City is a major producer of quality scissors, knives and bolos because of its skilled traditional blacksmiths.

The festivity will also feature musical concerts, sports tournaments, job and livelihood fairs, and opening of the National Museum branch.

On June 22, the Tabak Street Dance and Exhibition will reenact the origin of the city's popular craft. The revelry will have a rock concert featuring the hottest musical and show-biz celebrities.

Situated on the eastern seaboard of Albay, the city is an important commercial, fishing and tourism hub because of its strategic location.

Get to know Rizal on a personal level

SSS exhibit puts highlight on the national hero's journals and travels abroad

History in books have already told tons of info about Jose Rizal. But facts written in books and discussed in classrooms still leave many wanting to really get to know Rizal up close and personal.

Exhibits that feature well-curated materials allow the early "personal" encounter. To get to know more Rizal, one might want to visit "Rizal @ 150: Haligi ng Bayan," an exhibit on the the Life, Works and Heroism of Dr. Jose P. Rizal put up by the Social Security System at the building's Museum and Library in Diliman, Quezon City.

The exhibit, which celebrates the 150th birth anniversary of the national hero, is open to members and the general public on weekday from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. and will run until Aug. 12.

"There are many young people who don't know much about Rizal. The exhibit would try to encourage the youth to get to know Rizal on a personal level," said Ruiz Baguio vice president for public affairs and special events at SM.

The exhibit features Rizal's journals that tell of his extensive travels and study in Europe. An interesting part of the area that features the journals is the inclusion of photos, then and now, of the places Rizal referred to in his letters.

The exhibit also incorporated a lot of information about Rizal's childhood, even showcasing Rizal's first teacher and Rizal's mother and her family to emphasize on Rizal's good family background.

Based on the traveling exhibit of the NHI, the exhibit was expanded, placing more flesh into it by doing more research.

For example, the exhibit added more information, particularly the childhood years of Rizal, his studies as his first teacher and the kind of family his mother came from.

"The exhibit tells a great deal about Rizal's mother. For example, Rizal's cousins were educated abroad and carry different professions," said Baguio.

The exhibit also puts in historical facts about Rizal based on the chronology of events in Rizal's life prepared by the National Historical Institute. The SM exhibit added more meat into that by putting up information about events that took place during the dates that were relevant to Rizal. Raquel P. Gomez

DepEd fun run to honor Rizal

SPEARHEADED BY all DepEd Division Offices (DOs) nationwide, preparations for the simultaneous Fun run on June 19 to celebrate the 150th birth of Dr. Jose Rizal is now in full swing. The Department of Education expects more participants to donate educational materials or volunteer time for education-related activities to benefit public schools nationwide.

Education Secretary Armin Luistro said that instead of participants paying registration fees, they are requested to bring donations or sign a pledge form on what they can contribute to upgrade the standard of education in public schools.

"We all know how our national hero pushed for the education of the Filipinos and I am sure that a century after his death that remains his aspiration," said Luistro.

Participants have a choice of 3 km or 5 km walk or run. All the different divisions in the National Capital Region will join the Fun run at the Quirino Grandstand in Luneta starting at 6 a.m.

DepEd through its Adopt-A-School Program (ASP) will set up a booth where it will accept donations and administer the pledge form. This will be replicated in all the divisions nationwide. Completed forms will be submitted to the Local Registration Committee. The pledges/ actual donations will be accounted for and turned over to the schools.

Donations in kind could be school supplies (pencils, ball pens, ruled paper, notebooks, crayons, chalk, etc.); classroom furniture (chairs, tables, cabinets, etc.); equipment (fax machine, computers, printers, electric fans, etc.); classrooms or shop equipment (for Industrial Arts, Home Economics, Agri Fishing, etc.).

Volunteer man-days / labor support could be a volunteer person for a particular subject, tutorial assistance, peer counseling, assistance to students (preparing visual aids, teacher aids), school maintenance and repairs, or teaching.

Luistro expects to bring together education stakeholders in a spirit of fun and love for education. "This is a good physical exercise and at the same time an expression of compassion for our young learners who need our full support," he explained.

More than 20 million public elementary and high school students trooped to public schools nationwide when classes opened last June 6.

Five ways to pay tribute to Jose Rizal using your BlackBerry

As the country commemorates Dr. Jose Rizal's 150th birthday on June 19, BlackBerry smartphone users can take advantage of free and paid apps available from BlackBerry App World to celebrate his life and contribution to our freedom and national identity.

Here are five ideas on how you can personalize your BlackBerry to show some Philippine pride and pay tribute to our national hero. Simply visit the links or scan the QR codes below.

Enliven your BlackBerry with a Philippine theme

This distinctly Filipino theme puts the flag's colors onto one's BlackBerry smartphone. The battery and signal icons are replaced with stars, while the volume and the message indicator were changed to the Philippine sun. Instead of the usual hourglass, BlackBerry users will see the waving Philippine flag as a waiting indicator.

To get this theme, please visit http://appworld.blackberry.com/webstore/content/view/...

Get reacquainted with Rizal's classics

When was the last time you picked up a copy of one of Rizal's works? BlackBerry users can rediscover his La Solidaridad essay La Indolencia de los Filipinos (http://appworld.blackberry.com/webstore/content/...) or Noli Me Tangere (The Social Cancer) (http://appworld.blackberry.com/webstore/content/...), available on selected devices, by downloading these from BlackBerry App World and reading them using their smartphones at their leisure time.

Learn from the past

In 1890, Rizal republished Spanish lawyer Antonio de Morga's Sucesos de las Islas Filipinas (History of the Philippine Islands) to call attention to the richness of pre-colonial Filipino culture. BlackBerry users don't need to go far and can download an English version of de Morga's works available on selected devices by visiting http://appworld.blackberry.com/webstore/content/...

Connect with your loved ones through BlackBerry Messenger (BBM)

Whether he's in Barcelona, Spain finishing Amor Patrio (Love of Country) for home newspaper Diariong Tagalog, or in Tokyo, Japan, sending post cards to his brother Paciano, Rizal did not let the distance get in the way of his connection to his home country and family. Filipinos today have the advantage of BlackBerry Messenger (BBM), the unique messaging application that enables BlackBerry users to write with unlimited characters and reach out to loved ones even when overseas, at no extra cost to their data plan. Unlike SMS, BBM travel as data so regardless of the number of BBM messages sent back and forth, it won't result in outrageous phone bills.

For more information, visit http://appworld.blackberry.com/webstore/content/...

Discover a new local destination

Take advantage of the three day weekend to rediscover just why Rizal fell so intensely about his Patria Adorada (beloved country). Whether you want to find flights to Dapitan, Zamboanga del Norte, where Rizal was exiled for four years, or to any other local destination, BlackBerry Travel makes it easy to plan, book, manage, and share travel activities. Find great hotel and flight options, and get unlimited updates in one place. For more information please visit http://www.blackberry.com/ph/travel.

WATSONS OPENS TEN NEW STORES

Bringing Health, Wellness, and Beauty to 247 Locations in the Philippines

Watsons recently opened ten new stores in the Philippines, bringing its exciting brand and unique shopping experience to more cities across the Philippines.

These new stores can be found in high traffic urbanized areas to serve customers in key cities. In Metro Manila, these can be found at the SM Megamall A Supermarket and Starmall Crossing in Mandaluyong City. And with the opening of SM City Masinag last May, Watsons now serves shoppers in Antipolo City and the rest of Rizal province through three outlets in the new shopping center's mall, department store, and supermarket areas.

New Watsons stores are also conveniently located up in the Northern regions with stores in Savemore supermarkets in Bayombong, Pangasinan and Meycauayan, Bulacan.

Watsons also opened three other stores in the southern Philippines: at SM Hypermarket in Mandaue City, the industrial capital of Cebu; in Savemore supermarket in Kauswagan, Cagayan de Oro, the gateway to Northern Mindanao; and Ayala Abreeza in the progressive Davao City in Davao del Sur.

The opening of these new stores brings to a total of 247 Watsons stores in the country – making it easier and more accessible for customers to shop for their health, wellness, and beauty needs.

About Watsons Your Personal Store

Watsons Your Personal Store is part of the A.S. Watson chain, the world's largest health, beauty and personal care retailer with its network of 2,500 stores across 33 countries.

In the Philippines, the first Watsons stores opened at The Podium and SM Megamall in 2000. Since that time, 200 more stores have opened in over 50 cities in the Philippines, serving more than 150,000 customers everyday.

Watsons offers a complete range of personal care, cosmetics, skin care, fragrances, beauty accessories, and other general merchandise. These range from over 1,000 brands from top manufacturers, as well as Watsons' own competitively priced, high quality private labels.

Watsons strives to ensure that their customers get the best value for their money through monthly promotions, special offers, and continuous consumer marketing programs, such as its year long "Live Beautifully" campaign. This campaign aims to inspire shoppers to improve the way they look, feel, and live in their everyday lives. After all, beauty does not come from physical attributes alone, but is also about being healthy, happy, and confident.

Going Beyond Beauty

Watsons continues to go beyond beauty with the ongoing expansion of its pharmacy business. Voted Asia's No. 1 Pharmacy/Drug retailer in Media (TNS Asia's Top 1000 Brands Survey) in 2010, Watsons Pharmacy offers a wide selection of vitamins, supplements, over-the-counter drugs, as well as prescription medications and other health essentials. Watsons Pharmacy also has value added offers through its monthly promotions and innovative products like its Antibiotics Compliance Pack.

The Antibiotics Compliance Pack contains high quality and effective antibiotics, which are priced lower to help consumers complete the full dose prescribed by their doctor.

The Antibiotics Compliance Pack program is a joint effort between Watsons and Unilab to promote its advocacy of increasing awareness on the proper use of antibiotics and complying fully with the doctor's prescription, with the objective of combating antibiotic misuse and the prevention of the development of antibiotic resistant bacteria or "superbug" in the country.

Watsons Pharmacy also provides great services to its customers, such as free blood pressure monitoring and health and wellness counseling by its licensed, highly trained, and very customer-focused in-store pharmacists.

CHILDREN dressed in white and carrying styrofoam letters that spell "Ave Maria" lead the short procession around the neighborhood after the Mass.

AFTER the Mass, the statue of the Blessed Virgin Mary is mounted on a carroza with flowers and carried by men in a procession around the neighborhood.

Mayo at the Sta. Ana shrine extra special. For one, the fair weather allowed the kids to join a short procession around the neighborhood, something they hadn't been able to do in previous years, "because it always rains," says Pastor.

This year's Flores de Mayo also had a generous sponsor in the Society for Cultural Enrichment, Inc. (SCEI).

Chaired by Angela and Helen Ong, the group was responsible for the flowers that adorned the altar, as well as the snacks for the kids' post-procession, and the school bags presented to children who attended catechism classes regularly.

But the church has given the society much more in terms of exposure to a place steeped in history and art.

Established in 1725, the shrine boasts a double balcony, higher-than-high ceilings, and an extravagant backdrop of saints' statues surrounding the image of the Blessed Virgin Mary. The Virgin's backside can be seen in the Camarin de la Virgen, a room on the second floor with a dramatic retablo altar, authentic Ming Dynasty porcelain, tiled floors, and its well-preserved paintings of Jesus, the apostles, and the evangelists on its wooden ceiling.

What originally brought the SCEI to the shrine, however, was the "pozo de la Virgen," a well with miraculous powers akin to the healing waters of Lourdes in France. A wealthy businessman is said to pay regular visits to the well, as does a famous actress.

Sealed off by the Americans during a cholera epidemic, the pozo, found at the side of the shrine facing a Chinese temple, is undergoing restoration sponsored by the society.

Supporting the Flores de Mayo was thus a natural next step for the group. "We decided to help preserve even the intangible heritage of the church," says SCEI vice chair Dr. Jaime Laya.

Suddenly, a time-honored tradition for a community in Sta. Ana becomes a new one for a group eager to reconnect itself to our glorious past.

MEMBERS of the Society for Cultural Enrichment, Inc. include Dr. Jaime Laya, Mimi Yabut, Christine Condé, Tess Castro and Marietta Rodriguez
